FIFTEEN CENTS

Unitary Road System To 'Futurize' County

By TERRI ANDERSON

January first will not only be the advent of the new year 1978; it will also bring with it a giant step into the future for Collin County.

As of the first of the year, Collin County will switch to a unitary road system which calls for the Commissioners Court to sit as a board overseeing the operation of the county as a whole rather than each commissioner looking out solely for the interests of his own precinct.

The innovative concept was introduced by Precinct 4 Commissioner Chuck Frisk of Plano in September and was approved unanimously, although somewhat reluctantly, by the court. Frisk claimed that the switch will move the county 25 years ahead of its time.

"Beginning January first, we'll begin to transition toward it (the unitary system)," Frisk explained. "We'll visit some of the other counties that use it and get their ideas. We'll decide whether to hire one road superintendent or more than one. And we'll establish geographic districts which won't have anything to do with voter precinct lines."

Under the new system, one or more county road superintendents will be in charge of road and bridge building and maintenance and will answer directly to the commissioners.

"The great part of this is that it should take the politics out of fixing roads," noted Frisk. "A professional will maintain roads by need, not by friends or who voted for who or who contributed to whose campaign."

Only about 15 percent of Texas' 254 counties currently operate under the unitary road system. According to Frisk, many of those counties "just love it."

"I can't see it doing anything but solving problems," the commissioner said last fall. "I can't see anything but equity in it."

Frisk brought the new idea before the three other commissioners and County Judge Nathan E. White Jr. during precinct realignment talks last September. In order to equalize population within the commissioner precincts, boundary lines were redrawn giving Frisk a tight district in Plano with virtually no county roads.

A unitary road system was, therefore, essential, the Plano commissioner argued, in an unevenly populated county such as Collin.

His fellow commissioners were initially skeptical, fearing a decrease in their powers. Frisk assured them that the Commissioners Court "would still have the power we have now but we would delegate some of the responsibility to the county road superintendent."

He added that the superintendent would have to come before the court for major improvements but would take the responsibility for daily maintenance upon himself.

The county now possesses four maintenance facilities spaced evenly throughout the county. During the transition period, geographical districts will be drawn in order to get the best use from those maintenance barns.

Another benefit of the new system, Frisk pointed out, is that equipment which formerly belonged to each individual precinct will now become the property of the entire county. This will result in more efficient use and will help avoid duplication of expensive road equipment.

The change-over from the present individual precinct-based system to the new unitary system is expected to take about nine months to complete. But when it is finished, Commissioner Frisk is confident the county will run more efficiently.

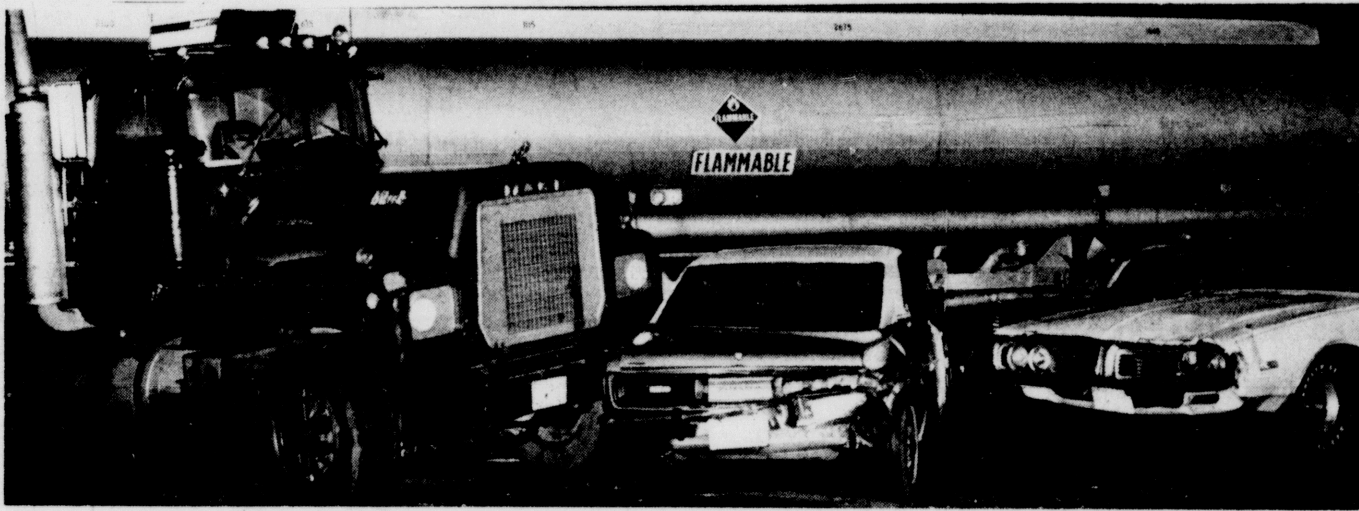

"I think we should have had it years ago," he concluded. "The people are going to get better roads from this."

Courthouse Silhouette

Taking shape against the wintry skies in McKinney is the new Collin County courthouse and jail complex. Revised completion time for the $7.5 million structures has been set by architects Jarvis Putty Jarvis for June of the coming year. The spacious buildings will be a welcome New Year treat to county citizens and county officials alike. The current structures were both built some 100 years ago and have long been outdated for the rapidly growing county. See more construction photos on page 2 of today's Daily Star-Courier. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Expressway Tie-Up

An unknown vehicle caused a chain reaction accident Wednesday night which sent three people to the hospital. Two tractor-trailers jackknifed, narrowly missing each other, and two cars skidded into the truck loaded with gasoline. The car which caused the collision did not stop. A police department spokesman said all vehicles were southbound on US 75, north of Dallas North Parkway, at about 10:25 p.m. The unknown car temporarily spun out of control on the rain slick road and Bassel Owen Shields Jr. of Wylie braked his 1976 Mack truck to avoid a collision. He jackknifed and was struck by a 1972 Toyota driven by Sue Ann Verre of 2046 18th. She and her 20-month-old son Zachary were taken to Parkland Hospital with minor injuries. The Toyota and truck were both struck by a 1972 Dodge driven by Doyce Cramer Havens of Garland. His wife Debra was taken to Plano General Hospital with minor injuries. The second truck, a 1975 Kenworth driven by Robert Homer Roberts of Normangee, skidded 50 feet north of the other three vehicle and jackknifed as well. Police said this is the second injury accident this month which involved a vehicle with its windshield covered with victory slogans. An officer reminded that there is a state law against this practice. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Registration Switches To Year-Round System

License plate renewal notices for almost 11 million motor vehicles are now in U.S. post offices throughout Texas for delivery to owners.

R.W. Townsley, director of the Motor Vehicle Division, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, said the renewal notices were stuffed into envelopes, pre-sorted by zip code, boxed and delivered to post offices to expedite delivery.

Work to get the renewal notices ready for delivery started in early October.

"The plate renewals for passenger cars and light trucks (such as pickups) will be different from last year. A new law requires that renewal dates be spread as equally as possible over 12 months, rather than have all expire at one time (April 1) each year," Townsley said.

Since the Motor Vehicle Division does not maintain records by owner's name or birth date, the license number of the vehicle has been used to determine the month of registration renewal in the future.

Renewal notices have been issued to reflect the number of months and the prorated fee to be paid to register each vehicle under the new system.

A complete explanation of the new system is enclosed with each renewal notice for passenger cars and light trucks (one ton or less).

It is imperative that vehicle owners not lose the registration notice as it must be presented at the county tax collection office to obtain new license plates.

Because of the new system, registration may take longer this first year than ever before. The new law authorizes county tax assessorscollectors to start processing the renewals a month early.

Your county tax assessor-collector is ready when you are—any time starting with the county's first work day in 1978.

"Look for your postman to bring your license plate renewal notice shortly after Christmas," Townsley said. "Do yourself a favor—take your renewal notice to your county tax office and register early. You'll be sorry if you don't."

President To Reaffirm Peace Wish

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter today promised to reaffirm the United States' dedication to peace as he left on an 18,000-mile goodwill trip to six nations.

"It is a rapidly changing world, a world in which the old ideological labels have less meaning than ever," Carter said in brief remarks on the White House South Lawn before leaving for Andrews Air Force Base, Md., and his flight to Poland.

He said the varying makeup of the nations on his schedule reflects the broad interests of his administration. During the next nine days, Carter will visit Poland, Iran, India, Saudi Arabia, France and Belgium.

Vice President Walter Mondale and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance stood behind him as the president spoke.

"In all these places, we will be reaffirming our dedication to peace and our support of justice and of human rights," the president said.

Air Force One, carrying Carter, his wife, Rosalynn and aides, departed from Andrews at 7:58 p.m. EST. He will return to the United States Jan. 6.

Class Assists Communication

By PAM TROBOY

Almost a dozen police officers are waiting for a chance to use a newly acquired skill—speaking Spanish.

The officers, some civilians in the department, the city attorney and the fire chief have successfully completed a conversational Spanish class.

Although the class covered phrases and simple sentences useful in everyday situations, the course was especially tailored to meet the professional needs of the city group.

Only three private citizens—one of them married to the police chief—enrolled in the class. The adult education course is one of many sponsored by the Plano Independent School District each semester.

Police Chief Duane Kinsey organized the volunteers who took the class to enhance the department's communication with Spanish speaking residents.

"There's not a day goes by that we don't have some contact with a Spanish speaking individual," Kinsey explained. "In the past we had an officer who could speak Spanish and we called on him frequently, but now there's often a delay in finding someone who can interpret for us."

"Taking this class will definitely be worthwhile if an officer gets enough words to let the subject he's dealing with know what he's asking," Kinsey added.

The former officer defused a tricky situation at a shooting last year, Kinsey explained. A Spanish speaking couple who were not involved in the shooting had barricaded themselves in a bedroom with the gun. The officer was able to explain that the police would not hurt the couple and they came out peacefully.

To acquire more officers who can converse in Spanish, the department agreed to pay tuition and book costs for officers who were willing to take the course.

The officers participate on their own time, but if someone's duty time is changed he is allowed to attend his class without penalty.

"I'm glad I took the class," said Dave Howell. "Speaking Spanish will help us communicate with a large portion of the community. If nothing else, it will help us to get the basic information about a crime without a long delay."

The instructor, Emiliano Maquez described the class of police officers as "willing to work." The group concentrated on things officers might need to deal with in their profession.

"Although it was still basically a conversation class," said Maquez, "it was directed at their interests. We dealt more with police terms and situations officers might run into."

Kinsey noted that many of the officers who completed the initial course will continue on to the advanced class this spring. The department will also encourage other officers to volunteer for the beginner class.

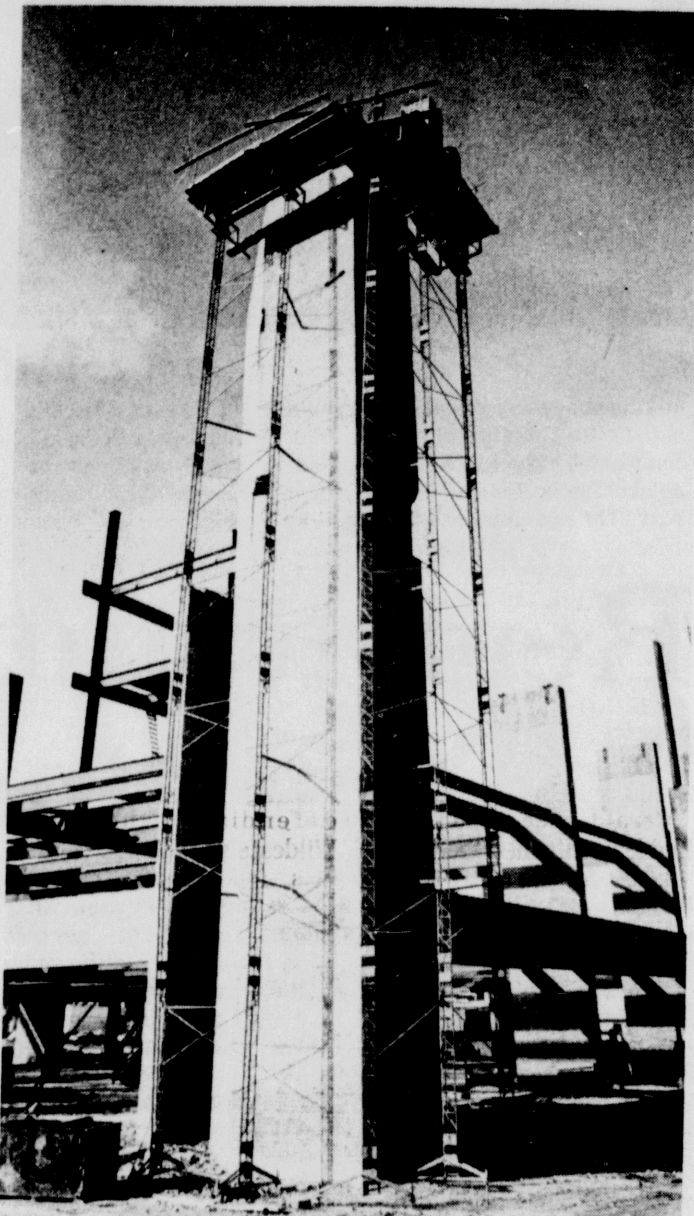

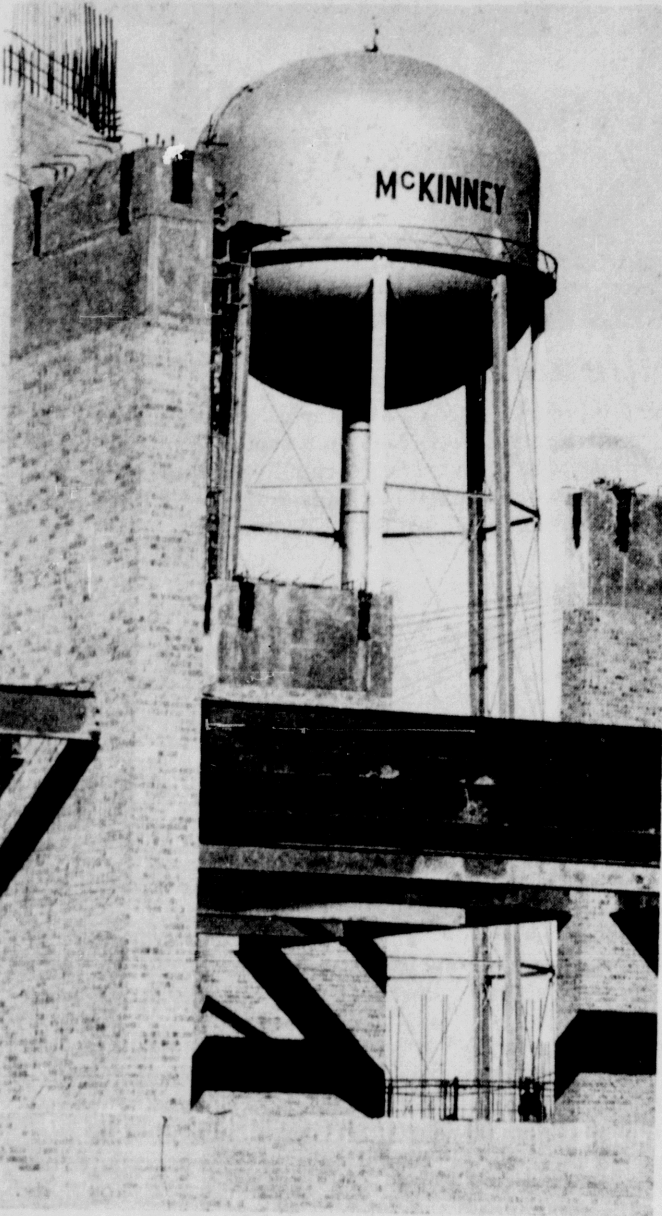

The city dominated one of this past semester's adult education classes conducted by the school district. Ten police officers including the chief and two lieutenants attended Spanish classes to pick up enough words and phrases to deal with an increasing number of Spanish speaking people in the community. Also taking the course were the chief's administrative assistant, secretary and wife. To round off the city class, the city attorney and fire chief were also recruited. Emiliano Maquez, shown above helping one of the officers, said the class was a good one because it was "willing to work." (Staff photo by Richard LaGow).

Some Blame Dust Level In Elevator

GALVESTON, Texas (UPI) — Federal Agriculture officials refuse to comment on reports that safety inspectors found dangerously high levels of grain dust in a grain elevator that exploded Tuesday night, killing at least 18 persons.

Houston television station KPRC said Wednesday that federal grain inspectors reported the Farmers Export Co. grain elevator had dangerously high levels of grain dust but that Washington officials delayed action while the company modified a dust extractor system.

McKinney Skyline?

After almost two years of construction, the new Collin County courthouse and jail complex is beginning to show more and more of its future finished facade. The complex, located at the corner of McDonald and Davis Streets in McKinney, will replace over-crowded, century-old structures now being used. Planned tentatively for completion in June of 1978, the facilities will include a three-story jail and separate six-story courthouse. (Staff photos by Mike Newman).

State Bids Received In County

Bids for the replacement of two bridges on State Highway 78 in Collin County are expected to be received at the January 17-18 letting of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The projects are located on SH 78 at the Desert Creek Bridge and the Desert Creek relief bridge, both southeast of Blue Ridge. The two existing narrow, all-wooden bridges will be replaced with 34-foot structures to accommodate two lanes of traffic. Construction of the two structures will complete the newly improved facility between Farmersville and the Blue Ridge community in Collin County. The project is part of an on-going program by the State Department of Highway and Public Transportation to replace old, substandard bridges.

Civil Suits, Divorces Occupy District Court

Judge John L. McCraw granted 25 divorces and disposed of a number of civil and criminal cases Dec. 20 in District Court 219. Among the civil cases, Judge McCraw awarded $1,586.90 plus attorney's fees of $455 to Jerry Mayfield doing business as JM Designs. Mayfield had filed suit against Brannon Building Company, Inc. Donald Ray Anderson was granted an occupational driver's license. In the lone criminal case, probation was revoked for Freddie Chevez Rodriguez and he was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. Rodriguez was accused of violating his probation imposed for breaking and entering a motor vehicle.

On Sunday and Monday, from 12 noon to 6 p.m., and on Tuesday, from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., the exhibits are open to all attending the convention, including the general public. Audio-visual specialists and members of the general public (those persons not commercially engaged in the audio-visual industry) interested in attending the exhibits may register at the Albert Thomas Convention Center. The fee for admission to the exhibits for three days (Sunday, Monday and Tuesday) is $27. Special one-day exhibit registrations are available to those persons who want to attend the exhibit on Monday, January 16 or Tuesday, January 17 only. The registration is $8 for each of the two days and covers admission to the exhibits on those two days only. Nine Collin County Four-Hers are getting ready to begin the upcoming New Year by attending the Southwestern Exposition and Stock Show in Fort Worth. The show, the first in what is known as the Spring Show Circuit, is one of the largest in the country. There will be animals there from all over the world. The show will be held January 25 through February 5 at the Will Rogers Coliseum in Ft. Worth. Attending the show will be Jeff Gilliam, Princeton; Tim Avery, McKinney; Tina Dickerson, Debbie Coomer, Les Hanson, Carla Williams, Chris Williams, Caron Williams and Carolyn Fulton, Wylie.

Mesquite Advances in Girls Bracket, 54-53

Plano Gains Finals in Tournament

Plano Senior High School's girls basketball team lost their bid for a second straight tournament championship Wednesday night in a 54-53 loss to Mesquite.

Plano's girls won the Plano Invitational Tournament last year but the best they can hope for this year is third place. They play Richardson Pearce today at 4 p.m. for that honor.

Mesquite has been a sleeper in the tournament. They won in the first round over Arlington Sam Houston in overtime, 63-61, and their win over Plano, regional finalists last year, was considered an upset.

Mesquite had the Plano girls down by 14 points at halftime but the Wildcats rallied, took the lead for a brief few seconds in the fourth quarter, but fell short in the scoring exchange.

Mesquite plays Richardson Lake Highlands for the girls crown at 7 p.m. tonight. Lake Highlands advanced to the finals by beating Pearce, 49-40.

In other girls action Wednesday night, Arlington Sam Houston beat Haltom City, 70-40, and Arlington Bowie downed Carrollton Turner, 46-42. Sam Houston plays Bowie at 1 p.m. today for the consolation championship.

In the boy's bracket, Plano advanced to the finals with a 46-25 victory over Fort Worth Southwest.

The game ended short of the accustomed 32 minutes of playing time when Rebel coach James Wood pulled his team from the court in protest of officiating with 5:19 remaining.

Wood called a timeout, walked over to Plano Coach Mike Bridges and said, "It is two against none. We're going to leave it with you. Goodbye."

Wood and his team then walked back to their dressing room and when their timeout had expired, the officials awarded the game to Plano.

Plano, who won the consolation championship last year, plays Fort Worth Pascal tonight at 8:30 p.m. for all the marbles. Pascal beat L.D. Bell, 70-63, to reach the finals.

Bell will play Southwest today at 5:30 p.m. for third place honors.

In other boy's action, South Garland bopped Denison, 68-56 and Grand Prairie, last year's champions, beat Texarkana, 75-67.

Grand Prairie and South Garland play for the consolation championship today at 2:30 p.m.

Plano Wins Under Protest, 46-25

Southwest Walks Off Court Over Officiating

Coach James Wood of Fort Worth Southwest was upset over the officiating in his team's game Wednesday night against the Plano Wildcats.

Wood was so upset that with 5:19 left in the game and his team trailing 46-25, he called a timeout, walked over to Plano Coach Mike Bridges and said, "It is two against none. We're going to leave it with you. Goodbye."

Wood then pulled his team from the court in protest and Plano was awarded the victory, 46-25.

The action occurred in the semifinal round of the Plano Invitational Basketball Tournament being held at Plano Senior High School. Plano's win over Southwest puts them in the championship finals of the eight-team tournament against perennial power Fort Worth Pascal.

Gametime for the championship is 8:30 p.m. tonight.

Plano was at the top of their defensive game against Southwest. They committed few mistakes and even fewer personal fouls, only two in the first half and five in the second half.

That's what ired Coach Wood of Fort Worth. His team was out-positioned on rebounding and cold from the floor. His team also drew 15 personal fouls which contributed towards 10 points for Plano.

Coach Bridges of Plano has maintained that defense is his team's strength this season and there wasn't any argument Wednesday night.

Southwest got only four points in the second period and didn't ring up their first bucket until 1:44 remained before the half.

They also had scored only one point in the fourth period before Coach Wood pulled his team from the court.

Gerald Lee and Flip Redden controlled the backboards for the Wildcats. Redden, an all-tournament selection last year, scored 16 points for his best performance in recent games.

Lee got only six points but all were from tip-ins or rebounds.

Guard Bill McKinney provided the Wildcats with 13 points followed by Dane Herbel with four, Jamie Oakry with four and Chris Sabonis with three.

Plano's win evens their season record to 9-9 entering tonight's final action.

Plano Girls Stopped

A late rally in the second half by the Plano girls varsity was snuffed out by Mesquite 54-53, Wednesday night in the second round of the Plano Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The 'Cats were down by 14 points at the half, but came out strong in the third quarter to pull within four points.

Melissa Bland was the leading scorer for the defending champion Wildcats with 22 points. She was followed by Deedra House with 14 points and Laurie Van Sice with 12 points. Mary Jo Vanderlinen got five points in the effort.

Plano never led in the game, played in the Activities Building, until there was 2:26 left to go in the game and they were up by one point 49-48.

In the last two and one-half minutes in the game the lead changed hands six times. Plano regained possession of the ball with thirty seconds to go in the game when Tammy Littrell called a time out for the Wildcats.

Plano was not to get a basket the rest of the way. The Mesquite defense should get credit for slowing down the Wildcat offense. The first half saw the Planotes score only 20 points.

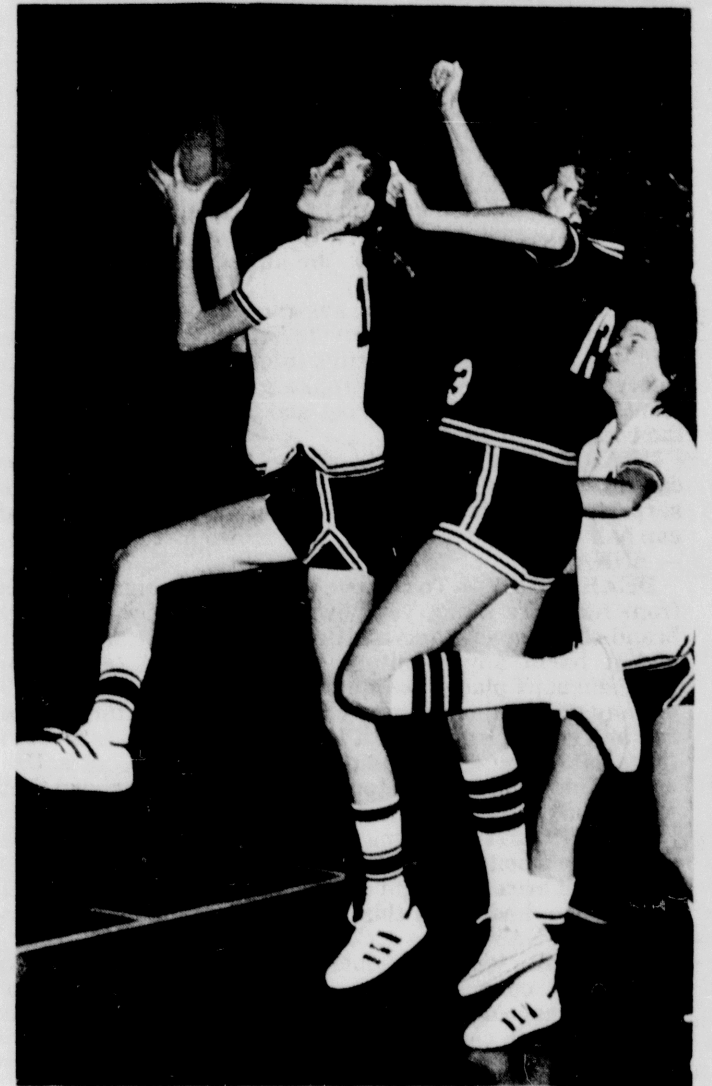

The Wildcats, defending champions in the tourney, meet J.J. Pearce today at 4 p.m. for third place honors.

Mesquite will play Lake Highlands at 7 p.m. for the championship.

Gerald Lee is boxed in by Fort Worth Southwest's defense. Lee scored six points and controlled the backboards for the Plano Wildcats in their 46-25 win Wednesday night over Fort

Deedra House goes up for two points Wednesday night, as Plano's drive for their second title in as many years in the Plano Invitational Basketball Tournament was stopped short by Mesquite High School, as the Skeeters advanced to the finals by narrowly defeating the Wildcats 54-53.

'out'a bounds'

—Ed Voss, Sports Editor—

Everywhere you go these days, it seems like everyone is talking about the Plano Wildcats and their amazing climb to the Class AAAA State Championship of football in Texas.

I don't just mean everyone in Texas is talking about it - I mean everybody, everywhere is talking about it.

For instance, several of the folks here at the Star-Courier took Christmas jaunts all over the place and each one heard something about "that Plano bunch." I went to visit my mother in Chickasha, Oklahoma and Plano was even on the news there.

And, that's not all. Mr. John Kitzmiller of Reading, Pennsylvania sent the Star-Courier a note this week that Plano made the news in their state. He even enclosed a small story from the Reading newspaper which told about Plano's state championship and the fact they drew 49,953 to the state championship game.

Be on the lookout also in this newspaper for the coaches' all-district selections and the sportswriters' all-state picks. You can bet that Plano will be well-represented.

The finals will be played tonight in the Second Annual Plano Invitational Basketball Tournament. When this column was written, it was impossible to project who would be in those finals. But, if you have a chance and are itchin to do something, attend one of the games.

The boys championship is at 8:30 p.m. and the girls championship is at 7 p.m.

The tournament is being played at Plano Senior High and there are eight fine teams in each of the boys and girls brackets. So, whoever reaches the finals should make for a fine game.

I realize it is still the dead of winter but several of us at the Star-Courier are getting the softball bug and are ready to get back on the diamond for another season.

The Star-Courier team finished the season at 8-8 last year and we were 5-7 in Plano Parks and Recreation Dept. league play for a fourth place finish in our tough (?) division. (That is out of six teams.)

We have a few changes in mind and let this be a warning that we won't be easy prey this next season. We figure if we start practicing now, we'll be over our midseason slump and into our peak just as the PARD begins their league play in April.

Jeff Guyton of the PARD, the ex-athletic supervisor and now a desk jockey, says that they are expecting over 100 teams in the softball league this year. Anyway you add it up, that is a bunch of teams, a bunch of games and a bunch of beer consumption.

Dallas Picked Over Vikings

By MIKE RABUN
UPI Sports Writer

DALLAS (UPI) — The teams that will meet for the NFC title next Sunday in Texas Stadium already tangled once this season and while the score will likely be different the winner is expected to be the same.

Dallas whipped Minnesota on the first weekend of the 1977 season, 16-10, with Roger Staubach bullying his way over middle linebacker Jeff Siemon for the winning touchdown in overtime.

A lot can happen to teams in the space of more than three months and things have certainly happened to Dallas and Minnesota. For the Cowboys those things have been mostly good. For the Vikings they have been mostly bad.

Minnesota has had to overcome the loss of quarterback Fran Tarkenton to make it this far in the playoffs and as a result Vikings Coach Bud Grant says his team is not all that much improved from the one Dallas beat in September.

"This is something that has evolved in football and we have gotten into it. As we played it we have gotten better at it. We even held Walter Payton to 275 yards on a bad field."

Skateboard Event Nixed

The Parks and Recreation Department Skateboard Contest scheduled for Friday, December 30, has been cancelled. The contest will be rescheduled in the Spring.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Cramer

Suitcase smells musty

By Polly Cramer

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — I have a suitcase that was stored in the attic and has a musty smell I have not been able to get rid of. Any suggestions?

Also, I would like to know what will take ink off a white purse. — LOLA.

DEAR LOLA — You might fill your suitcase with crumpled up newspaper and leave closed for a couple of weeks. Other suggestions are a nylon stocking filled with cedar shavings (from a lumberyard) or baking soda in an open container.

Sorry you did not say what material was used to make your purse. Hair spray should remove ballpoint ink from vinyl, cuticle remover from leather (or rubbing alcohol if it is safe for the material). Test anything first. Our answer must necessarily be on the vague side as was your question. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — When my sponge mop needs to be replaced I let it dry thoroughly and then with safety pins I secure two terry-type dish rags to the base of the mop. This gives me a perfect waxer for the liquid waxes and makes waxing as easy as mopping.

When painting indoors I save those wooden stir sticks that so many paint stores provide and when the job is done I dip the remainder of the stick into the paint. Along with colored bread twists these make great hold-ups for my plants. Just stick stirrer in pot and fasten plant to it with the twists. — MRS. R.M.

DEAR POLLY — I got rid of roaches by putting a coffee can in the garage close to the kitchen door and was surprised at the roaches in the can in the morning. Fill the can half full of water and they will drown in a few minutes. — ANNA.

DEAR POLLY — To remove white water rings and spots from furniture make your own compound by using any brand of toothpaste and a little baking soda. I have never had it harm any furniture but you might test in an inconspicuous place. Dampen a cotton cloth and squeeze out any excess moisture, put a little of the mixture on the rag and rub the spot until it disappears. It may take from three to 15 minutes depending on how deep the spot is. Use a clean, dry cotton cloth to wipe away any compound that is left and then buff for luster. — MRS. S.E.R.

DEAR POLLY — I think I have help for Bonnie who has mildew on a bed sheet. When I have mildew on any clothes I soak that area overnight in milk and then wash as usual. I have never had to do this often but when I have it has worked. — KAYE.

Polly will send you one of her signed thank-you newspaper coupon clippers if she uses your favorite Pointer, Peeve or Problem in her column. Write POLLY'S POINTERS, in care of this newspaper.

PARAFFIN GUM
The "State of Maine Pure Spruce Gum," manufactured by John Curtis in 1848, was the first chewing gum to be sold. It was made from paraffin.

Plato's "Dialogues" has three themes
ATHENS (UPI) — A theatrical adaptation of Plato's "Dialogues" has played for two months at the Theater of Athens.

Staged and directed by Dimitris Myrat, who also plays the leading role of Socrates, the modern production has an aura of ancient Greek tragedy about it.

The "Dialogues" are based on the Symposium, the Crito and the Phaedon, three of the fifth century B.C. philosopher's major works.

The first deals with love, the second with loyalty to country and law, and the third with life and death and the survival of the soul.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Family doctor may help

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — About two months ago I realized that I had breast cancer. At that time, I did not have a family doctor. A friend who is a nurse referred me to the best surgeon in town. I had a radical mastectomy, but when I came to my right upper leg was numb in the flesh, like a local anesthetic would be, yet very painful as though someone was cutting gashes with a razor blade.

My surgeon was out of town and another surgeon took care of me. He wouldn't tell me anything. When I was strong enough to walk I had a terrible muscle cramp. Of course it went away in about four days, but I didn't know it would. He could have saved me some mental anguish if he would have just told me what to expect.

A third surgeon came in to see me and he looked at the place but wouldn't tell me anything to relieve my mind from the torment of things going haywire.

There I was "stranded" in a hospital, with the strong feeling that I badly needed a doctor but I couldn't get out to go find one. I needed help, yet there was a doctor coming to see me every day, checking on the surgery.

I keep thinking that if I had had a family doctor perhaps he would have taken care of the side effects these doctors refused to treat. I really don't understand what the score is. The public needs to be educated on simple basic steps they should take when they need medical aid. Do you have any comments?

DEAR READER — You are telling me a familiar story. You and your doctors had a communications problem. This happens to patients seeing the best doctors in the world. Your doctors didn't know you as a person before your surgery, and you didn't know them. You were not professionally neglected, but you did have anxiety because you didn't understand your problem.

Some doctors are reluctant to talk to patients because it takes time which some of them really do not have.

Every ache and pain cannot be diagnosed when it first occurs. With time, the true nature of the difficulty may become apparent. Your doctors may have been concerned that you may have been developing a clot in the leg, but the signs were not sufficient to make such a diagnosis. What should the doctor do? If he discusses all the possibilities, he may alarm the patient needlessly. If he waits a few days, and if need be, takes tests, he may then be able to say exactly and correctly what the real problem is.

Today many doctors, particularly surgeons, practice defensive medicine. Some people look for an excuse to "sue the damned doctor. He's got plenty." Anything the doctor says when he takes the patient into his confidence may be held against him, and no one is going to be there to advise him of his rights before he speaks. That is a social problem.

What should patients do? The most important thing is to have a family doctor who does know you BEFORE you have an emergency. He can refer you to a surgeon if you need one, and can help bridge the gap. That will not solve every problem, but it will be a major step in the right direction.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 56 years old and feel just great. However, I was in a department store last week and had my blood pressure taken for a dollar. The attendant said it was just a little high. I live on a pension and cannot afford to go to a doctor all the time to have this problem checked.

Can you tell me what I can do daily to keep my blood pressure down as this might be a problem as I get older.

DEAR READER — A single blood pressure measurement is not a very good index of what your pressure usually is. That is why doctors often take several determinations if the reading is high. So don't put too much faith in that one reading which was "just a little high." For mildly elevated blood pressure the best treatment is often weight control, exercise and limiting salt intake. That may solve the problem for many.
